I.C.C. Orders More Speed in Freight

Limit Is Set on Turning of Cars; to Promote U. S. Defense

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Speedier handling of railway freight traffic "to promote the national defense" was ordered yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The new spur to defense mobilization sets a 24-hour limit to the turn around of freight cars ready to move.

One section of the order called for a stiff increase in "demurrage" rates paid by shippers for keeping freight cars idle beyond the 48-hour free time period allowed for loading and unloading.

In other mobilization moves: 1. Officials said an anti-hoarding order on steel, copper, tin, aluminum and other key materials may be expected before the end of the week.

2. The Interior Department began setting up a new agency, tentatively called the Minerals and Energy Administration (M.E.A.), to prepare for possible emergency use of petroleum, gas, coal and electric power.

The organization is expected to start functioning at least on a standby basis, within two weeks.

Government experts generally agreed that months will probably elapse before consumers even begin to feel the pinch of war production orders—and that the squeeze will be much less severe than in the last war.

On the other hand, the Department of Labor reported that available labor supplies have declined and employment has increased in a "vast majority" of the nation's major areas since the defense program began.

Award Is Made

Cleveland, Sept. 13 (AP)—A jury yesterday awarded $10,000 to a man whose counsel argued that a brain injury caused him to commit a crime. The award went to David Allen, 50, a teacher, whose skull was fractured when a truck crushed him against a wall in 1945. He had asked for $100,000 from the Giff-Kirby Co. Allen N. Corlett, his attorney, told the court the injury affected the man's personality. Under the influence of liquor, he said, Allen "killed" a man and then "sussed" the judge when he was brought into court. Sent to the penitentiary, he was paroled after serving two years. The jury deliberated for more than a day before making the award.

Boy Reported Hurt In Fall From Horse

Paul Faby, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Faby, of Whiteport, suffered a serious head injury when he fell from a horse while playing with other youngsters near his home yesterday afternoon.

The boy was taken to Albany for an operation by a specialist shortly after he was brought to Kingston Hospital at 5:55 p. m., and a member of the family said today his condition was reported as "fair" following the operation.

The boy was one of three youngsters on an "old horse" when he fell and suffered the head injury, a member of the family said. The trio was riding on the road leading into the Four Corners, town of Hurley at the time.

Marshall Is Recalled to U.S. Service

Retired General Takes Defense Post After Johnson Quits Under Pressure

Hurdle Is Ahead

Lawmakers Must Fix Amendment to Law on Appointment

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—President Truman formally asked Congress today to pass a law to let Gen. George C. Marshall become an exception in placing a military man at the head of the defense establishment.

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—George Catlett Marshall, soldier by profession and diplomat by experience, is headed back to the Pentagon to become secretary of defense.

President Truman turned to the 69-year-old, five-star general and former secretary of state to replace Louis Johnson.

Johnson, bowing to presidential will and the "enemies I have acquired during the eighteen months I have served as a member of your cabinet," submitted his resignation yesterday. Mr. Truman accepted it with official regret—but with alacrity.

Suddenly, in a single day, there were vacancies pending in the two top civilian posts of the huge and complex national military establishment.

For what appeared to be entirely personal reasons, Stephen Early resigned as deputy secretary. He had remained well past the year's leave granted him by the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Co., so that he could return to government work. None of the criticism that had welled up around Johnson had touched Early.

Effective Next Tuesday Johnson's resignation is effective next Tuesday, Early's Sept. 30.

Three Vessels Make Port, Only One Is Reported Missing

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 13 (AP)—Only one vessel remained unaccounted for today as a stubborn Atlantic hurricane appeared headed for sea after lashing the Nova Scotia mainland with high winds and torrential rains.

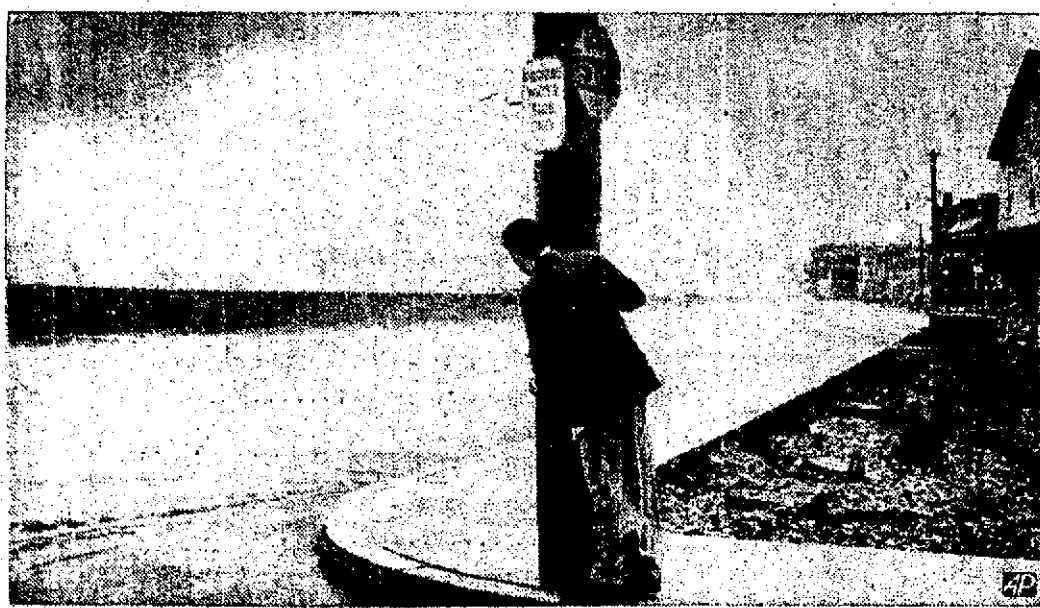

Of the four ships reported missing along the coast during the height of the storm last night, only the Sir Echo was still lost somewhere at sea today. She carried a crew of six.

The Afeneth and Emma Marie made port safely at Wood's Harbour after hours of battling through mountainous seas and high winds. The Nickerson was located early today by the United States Coast Guard Cutter Cook Inlet and the Canadian freighter Vagabond Prince about 50 miles west of Seal Island.

The Sir Echo has not been heard from since yesterday morning. It is believed in the same area where the Nickerson was found.

The storm itself was centered about 200 miles south of Halifax. Weather officials said the disturbance was now moving slowly and still curving slightly eastward. They said it might swerve slightly to the north during the day, resulting in high but not dangerous winds in the northern part of the province.

County Sends 46 Men to Albany

Local Draft Board 19 (county) today shipped 46 men to Albany for preinduction examination.

A total of 69 was scheduled to leave here, including nine transferred from other places, but the number was reduced due to changes in status and for other reasons which the board will list in detail later.

The board is scheduled to ship 15 men to Albany for induction into the armed forces on Sept. 15, and Local Board 18 (city) will send up 15 men for induction Sept. 21.

On Sept. 18 Local Board 18 will ship 35 men to Albany for preinduction examination. The group today left here at 7:40 a. m. and was due to return between 5 and 6 p. m.

Subversives Bill Is in Conference; Veto Is Foreseen

White House Is Studying Measure; House May Accept Most of Provisions

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—A bill aimed at stifling Communist activities all along the home front headed today for a Senate-House conference as the first step toward a probable veto by President Truman.

It received an overwhelming 70 to 7 vote of approval in the Senate late yesterday.

Briefly the bill provides for:

- 1...The internment of dangerous Reds in time of war, invasion or insurrection.
- 2...Registration of Communist and Communist front organizations.
- 3...Barring Reds from government jobs and obtaining passports.
- 4...New legal curbs on sabotage and espionage.
- 5...New weapons to be used to exclude and deport aliens considered to be subversive.
- 6...Outlawing conspiracies to set up a totalitarian dictatorship in the United States.

Senator Kilgore (D-W. Va.) had introduced the interim plan as a substitute for the sweeping catch-all bill sponsored by Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) of the Senate Judiciary Committee. As a substitute it was defeated 50 to 23.

Two Other Changes

There were only two other major changes in the McCarran bill. One stripped from it a provision to set up a semi-independent office of passports and visas.

The other added a provision making it illegal to picket federal courts.

A top administration lieutenant, who asked that he not be identified by name, told reporters the White House already has the measure under study, but he did not know when a decision would be made.

He said, however, that the President would make a forthright stand one way or another.

Mr. Truman told his news conference last week that he would not sign the McCarran bill in the form it was in at that time.

He had asked Congress only for new weapons to use against saboteurs and spies. He said he thought provisions of the McCarran bill would imperil the rights of loyal American citizens.

Contains Provisions

As passed, the bill contains provisions the President wants and some he doesn't want. Indications are that the House, which last month passed its own Communist-registration bill by an overwhelming vote, will accept most of both.

While the Senate was voting approval of the tight curbs on Red activities the Senate Appropriations Committee made a public testimony by FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover.

Kingston Chamber Seeks Men's State Bowling Tourney

Newkirk and Teetsel Say Conventions of Kind Are Beneficial to Community

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce will directly assist the Kingston Bowling Association to bring the state men's bowling tournament to Kingston in 1952.

The question was brought up at a meeting of the Chamber board of directors Tuesday night by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. President Robert E. Teetsel reported that funds were allotted to help induce the state officials to decide in favor of Kingston. A special committee consisting of Raymond W. Garraghan, Joseph Deegan and George W. Schneider was appointed to work out the necessary details with the local bowling officials. It was the consensus, Teetsel said, that conventions of this kind are a tremendous asset to the entire city, both from the standpoint of money spent here and from the resultant publicity.

The annual Chamber of Commerce budget of $11,323.10 was adopted Tuesday night. Chester A. Baltz, Jr., chairman of a special budget committee presented a report based on a paid membership of 440 during the budget year starting May 1, 1950. Teetsel (Continued on Page 20, Col. 5)

Master Sgt. Everett M. Albright was listed as wounded while serving in the army of Korea. He is a son of Mrs. Ruth Albright, 228 Wall street, this city.

His wife, Mrs. Ann Beatrice Albright resides in the Far East command.

Two Hudson soldiers were also listed as wounded, Pfc. Andrew T. Yarbrough, son of Mrs. Mary E. Watkins, 122 Columbia street, and Sgt. Felix S. Ferrazzi, son of Mrs. Angelina Ferrazzi, 5 West Columbia street.

Split Shatters A.F.L.-C.I.O. Unity; C.I.O. Backs Pecora

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Pecora-Impeller split in New York city's Democratic mayoralty campaign had its first major effect today—the shattering of A.F.L.-C.I.O. political unity in the big city.

C.I.O. unions, led by Michael J. Quill's powerful Transport Workers, were set to walk out today on the combined United Labor Committee and announce support of Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora, the regular Democratic candidate.

The A.F.L.-C.I.O. committee, set up in last year's mayoralty campaign, had already given tentative approval to Acting Mayor Vincent E. Impelleri, running as an Independent.

The early endorsement came before Pecora won the regular nomination. In the last few days the C.I.O. elements swung over to his side—partly in concern for the strength of the state-wide Democratic ticket.

Scrap of Paper May Provide Clue Speed Recording May Show on Tape; Open Hearing Called

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13 (AP)—A scrap, graying Pennsylvania Railroad engineer testified today he was trying to make up time when his crack passenger train rammed the rear of a troop train, killing 38 National Guardsmen.

William Eller, 65-year-old engineer of the Pennsylvania's "Spirit of St. Louis," testified at opening of an investigation into the fatal Ohio crash by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Ohio Public Utility Commission and the army.

Eller testified he was 20 minutes late leaving Pittsburgh and had lost another minute en route. He said visibly at the time of the wreck in the pre-dawn hours Monday was restricted because of fog. The crash occurred near Coshocton, Ohio.

The veteran engineer told how he reduced speed but "not enough" at the first approach block before the stalled troop train.

May Give Clue

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13 (AP)—A scrap of paper taken from the shattered cab of a diesel locomotive may provide a clue to the troop train wreck which killed 38 members of Pennsylvania's 28th Division.

Persons familiar with locomotives expect that a paper tape speed recording machine—standard equipment on the diesels—will play an important part in the investigation which gets underway here today.

The machine provides a record of the train's speed—an important detail in the case of a wreck.

The open hearing was called by the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Interstate Commerce Commission. (Continued on Page 19, Col. 3)

Enemy Gets Weaker, He Tells Army

Korean Reds Will Fold, General Says, Soon as Crust Is Broken by U.N. Forces

3,000 Reds Nabbed

General Davidson Puts Communists in Tight Trap

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Allied troops got word today they will kick off on the offensive soon against the big Red Korean war machine they have lusted to a standstill for a month.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Allied ground commander in Korea, said in a fighting talk to his frontline troops:

"Soon we are going to give up the attitude of defense... as soon as we start forward and break the crust in front of us, the enemy will fold."

"We can feel a weakening of the enemy now. In some positions they actually are pulling out."

The U. S. Eighth Army commander described the long weeks of delaying action as necessary "anguish and suffering."

Only through such an ordeal, he said, could the Allies build up power for an offensive.

Walker's fighting talk came as Allied troops flattened the Red Korean bulge on the northeast front in a triple-threat power drive.

The United Nations gains in a three-day offensive were the greatest in nearly a month. They sealed much of the gap torn last week by Communist troops in their massive breakthrough south from Kijang near the east coast.

Recurrent South Korean troops, driving east from Yungchun and northwest from Kyongju, rolled back the Communists.

5,000 Are Trapped

To the east, a mixed force of South Koreans and Americans rammed shut the southern gate of a mountain corridor, trapping 5,000 Red Koreans.

This task force was led by 47-year-old Brig. Gen. Gae Davidson, former West Point football coach and right col. It was a brilliant and deep wedge from the Pohang area by "Task Force Davidson" that trapped the Reds.

Along the 125-mile allied defense perimeter, this was the picture:

Pohang-Yongchon Sector—"Task Force Davidson" closed a three-mile gap between Anju and Pohang. From the west, the South Korean Eighth Division thrust three-fourths of the way to Red-held Anju. It has punched 12 miles in three days. A South Korean regiment drove northwest from Kyongju to close this last gap. Reds dug in on Hill 343 southwest of Anju were resisting fiercely.

III Is Attached

Taegu Sector—U. S. First Cavalry Division elements attacked a strong-fortified hill eight miles north of Taegu. This was in the immediate area where they stormed and won a hill Tuesday at heavy cost. Other units seized high ground north of the Waegwan area, a few miles west. The Reds pushed back troops off an important peak nine miles northwest of Taegu.

Changnyong Sector—All quiet.

Musan Sector—American big guns wiped out 200 Red Koreans as they stormed a dominant peak four miles south of the Nam-Naktong river junction. U. S. 25th Division Engineers battled 300 Reds who had infiltrated the line. Air support was called to help wipe out the pocket.

The triple-pronged drive on the northwest front lifted a threat to Pohang Airport and eased a situation. (Continued on Page 19, Col. 1)

Roosevelt Praises Dewey

San Francisco, Sept. 13 (AP)—Democratic James Roosevelt says Republican Thomas E. Dewey has done a more progressive job in New York state than has Republican Earl Warren in California. The eldest son of the late F.B.I. chief said the statement in answer to a "show me" challenge by Governor Warren for states with a more progressive record than California. Roosevelt and Warren are rival nominees for the governorship in the November election.

Construction Jobs Increase in July

Employment in contract construction in New York state totaled an estimated 241,200 workers in July, an increase of 4.7 per cent over employment for June, Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi reports. The estimated total is 9.1 per cent above the employment figure for July, 1949 and is approximately 3,700 above the July, 1948 peak. Gains of 5.7 per cent in general building and of 5 per cent in special building trades accounted for most of the increase. In New York city construction projects were slowed by strikes of truck drivers and steamfitters which held the employment percentage increase below that of the upstate area. Average weekly earnings of construction workers were slightly lower in July than in June as was the average of hours worked. In the general building field average weekly earnings rose $1.52 to $33.08, partly due to wage increases.

State to Give Help

Albany, Sept. 13—New York state businessmen will have the assistance of the New York State Department of Commerce in keeping currently abreast of federal procurement requirements and procedures under the newly enacted Defense Production Act of 1950, Commerce Commissioner Harold Keller announced today. Through the department's Washington office—the state's "business embassy on the Potomac"—Commissioner Keller said, industry in the state will be alerted to the fast-changing needs of the federal mobilization program.

EAR STRAIN from WAXY EARS Dangerous!

That thought repeated often enough can result in a state of imaginary, partial deafness that constantly gets worse and more nerve-racking. IF YOU'RE HEARING NOW and there's a wax (cerumen) in your ears, remove it with OURLINE. This deep-down wax does not equal, blunders the sound-carrying powers of the canal, hinders hearing, causes discomfort, ringing, buzzing, muffled sounds. Hinman Resigns Post On Board of Regents Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—George L. Hinman blames the pressure of his private law business for his resignation from the State Board of Regents.

Hinman, 44-year-old Binghamton attorney and youngest of the 13 regents, announced his resignation last night. In a letter to the secretary of state, he said that the education post required "more time and energy than I can possibly spare from my law practice and my family." At the same time, Hinman issued a statement urging the reelection of Governor Dewey and charging that "we have been in dangerous hands" under the administration of President Truman. He said that "ineptness" in Washington was "playing fast and loose with the national security." The 1951 legislature will elect Hinman's successor on the Board of Regents, which controls all education in the state. Hinman, a Republican, was elected to the unsalaried post by the legislature in February, 1948, for a term expiring in 1955. Fireworks are displayed in Holland on the Queen's birthday night. Both Flemish and French are official Belgian languages.

Nude Photos Irk Students' Parents

Seattle, Sept. 13 (AP)—Full length nude photographs of girls who are entering the University of Washington caused a campus furor today.

The photographs were made for a research laboratory of the Columbia University (New York City) Medical School. Parents raised a storm of protest, and university authorities said the pictures taking would be stopped immediately.

The young women, mostly freshmen or transfer students, complained they had not been told why they were being posed. The pictures were taken during routine physical examinations. Both front and profile views were made. The women were photographed one at a time in a room where they were alone with the woman photographer, and the woman who was posing them.

Miss Barbara Honeyman, executive director of Constitution Laboratory, the Columbia University Medical School research project, said the photos were being taken for Dr. William Sheldon, a widely known scientist writing a series of books on the relation of human structure to human behavior. Miss Honeyman said she herself develops all the film in New York and the heads are blacked out on the negatives, which always are kept under lock and key. "Only a serial number, the age and weight appear on the negative," she said.

TAKE IT EASY

Prominently displayed throughout the city are posters reminding motorists that schools are open again and that they should "Take It Easy." It is an effort on the part of city officials and the Automobile Club of New York to prevent accidents involving school children.

The school routine changes the hours when children are at play, causes them to play more intensely, since their time for play is limited, and brings them across busy streets on their way to and from school. It is indeed a time for care. The word of these officials to both walking children and drivers of motor vehicles is "Take It Easy."

That's good advice any time. So often a sense of hurry seems to grip the driver, whether he really is in a hurry or not. He knows that his machine is capable of getting him from one place to another more quickly than any other means short of an airplane or express train. He seems to be impelled to make the best possible time, to drive a little faster than the legal limit, to get ahead of that next car. This sense of hurry seems always to be crowding him.

When a chronic hurrier is persuaded to experiment with an easier pace, he usually is amazed by the result. He finds that it takes only a trifling added time to get across town, and that he gets there without screeching brakes or frayed nerves. He finds that the time saved by high speeds across country is hardly worth the extra wear and tear on the car, to say nothing of that on the driver and passengers.

So little more time and thought are used in taking it easy. So much is gained in security, comfort and ease of mind.

NEW TITO SURPRISE

The Tito government in Yugoslavia seems capable of dropping endless surprises into the international scene. After doing a creditable job of straddling the Korean issue in the United Nations Security Council for two months, Yugoslavia has suddenly announced a position. This rebellious Russia satellite rejects the two central Communist themes about Korea.

In carefully couched language, Foreign Minister Edvard R. Kardelj lays the blame for the start of the war on the North Koreans. The Communist line coming from Moscow stoutly maintains that the South Koreans attacked the North. In a flat statement open to no misinterpretation, Kardelj says that the Red campaign "does not lead toward a real liberation of the Korean people." This denies a basic Communist argument not only for Korea but for all of Asia and Europe. Communists portray themselves everywhere as liberators of oppressed or enslaved people.

Does this announcement indicate that Tito is preparing to take another step away from the Moscow line and toward the Western Powers? Or is he trying to catch the ear of other Communists somewhere? Whatever the case, it may be assumed that something is afoot in the Communist satellite area. It might be very valuable to the United States to know what moved Tito to the significant pronouncement.

BRITISH ECONOMY

According to figures compiled by Findley Weaver, economist with the United States embassy in London, the British working classes consume 22 per cent more goods and services than before the war, middle-class consumption is down 18 per cent, and the wealthy classes purchase 42 per cent less than under other governments.

This economist believes, however, that the British worker pays more in taxes for government-provided services than he receives in return. He thinks, then, that the rise in consumption is due wholly to full employment and increased production. The rise in production, says the economist, is due to improved management and organization, as well as to new machinery.

These conclusions are accurate, Britain's economy is essentially healthy, and may be counted on to weather the storm. If the improvement in living conditions were found

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE COURSE OF EXPEDIENCY
Dr. John A. Mackay, president of the Princeton Theological Seminary, makes an interesting point about expediency. It is in relationship with our attitude toward China, but the importance of his remark lies in his own realm, namely, the moral basis of our lives. He says:

"Because the government of Peking is the only government which controls that vast Asiatic area traditionally called China and because it will continue to control China for a very long time to come, political precedent as well as international expediency dictate at least a de facto recognition of the government in power."

If expediency is a suitable measure for international conduct, why not for national conduct or even personal conduct? Would Dr. Mackay justify an alliance between a governor of a state and Lucky Luciano because it is expedient politically? "International expediency," pursued at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam and at the various Moscow conferences, has brought us to the Korean war with every prospect of its being the first campaign in World War 3. The rejection of moral attitudes by our leaders and the substitution of expediency have reduced our international leadership to the present state of bankruptcy. For who can believe a leadership that signs an agreement at Cairo November 28, 1943 and betrays it at Teheran within five days?

That may have been expedient, but was it moral? Perhaps politicians need to be expedient, but do clergymen? That is a question which must be faced, for if clergymen and editorial writers and professors in universities all resort to the wiles of the politician, or justify retreat from morality in public affairs, who shall hold aloft the banner of right and decent living?

At another point, the Reverend Dr. Mackay says: "Any attempt on the part of the United States to impose upon China the nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek, for one reason or another has definitely forfeited the confidence of the Chinese people, would do irreparable harm to Sino-American relations."

First of all, the United States does not seek to impose any government upon any nation. China has passed through a revolution. The government now holding most of the country is a satellite of Soviet Russia, which organized the Chinese Communist party in 1920. That government, headed by Mao-Tse-tung, seeks recognition. Thus far, such recognition from Soviet Russia has been withheld by the United States, which had also withheld recognition from Soviet Russia from 1917 to 1933. Nations have often delayed recognition until a succeeding government has proved its capacity to remain in power and to assume outstanding obligations.

Secondly, Dr. Mackay used a Soviet propagandistic term, "the nationalist government of Formosa." The correct title is "the nationalist government of China." That government has been in existence since 1927. With it, the United States has entered into contractual relations in the form of treaties and agreements. It is not unusual for a country to continue to do business with governments-in-exile. The de Gaulle government-in-exile, the Dutch government-in-exile and the Polish government-in-exile fought on our side during World War 2.

But the nationalist government of China is not a government-in-exile. It continues to function on Chinese soil and has offered the United States some 30,000 ground troops in this war, a fact which President Truman chose not to mention in his speech in which he listed the paltry aid offered by our United Nations allies.

Finally, Dr. Mackay does not know and cannot know—any more than I can know or you can—if Chiang Kai-shek has lost the confidence of the Chinese people. There has been no election. There has been no plebiscite.

What happened is that Chiang was disarmed by us, while Soviet Russia armed the Chinese Communists not only with American supplies but with Japanese supplies that Russia captured in Manchuria, with our consent, after it had been in the Far Eastern war less than a week.

Whereas Chiang was the leader of the Chinese Communists since 1926 and always won, he could not fight the power of Soviet Russia. Chiang could have run away, cashing in on about $300,000,000 of specie, and lived in luxury in Brazil or Mexico or some such place. Instead, he chose to continue to fight Communism from the tropical island of Formosa. This is a moral response to obligation and responsibility and a rejection of immoral concepts of expediency.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

PERSONALITY
It is strange that most of us have not learned to size up another individual except by our first impression. As we get to know a person, usually we find that some of our first judgments about him are wrong.

What we forget is that many factors, not one or two, determine a man's make-up. It was Chesterfield who said that an attack of indigestion, a scowling mouth and a rainy morning could make a coward of a man who would be a hero.

It is the personality, the whole personality, that gives the correct estimate of the individual according to Prof. L. L. Thurstone, professor of psychology, University of Chicago. Seven major factors that can be measured are responsible for basic differences in people's personalities. The personality can be measured or estimated as can his mental abilities.

The first personality factor is a pressure for activity. A person high in the activity factor is a "go" man, hurrying and quick in his actions.

The second factor is masculinity. Persons high in masculinity like athletics, the outdoors, and to work with tools.

Impulsiveness is the third factor—happy-go-lucky, carefree, devil-may-care disposition. These people act on the spur of the moment, make decisions quickly and like competition.

Dominance, wanting to dominate, boss, or control others, is the fourth factor. Dominant persons start projects, preside at meetings and like to persuade others. They take charge in case of an accident.

Emotional stability is the fifth factor. Those with emotional control are cheerful, calm in crisis. They don't fret about daily chores, are not annoyed when interrupted at their work.

Sexuality, being a good mixer, is the sixth factor. The desire and the ability to get along with other people. They are sympathetic, cooperative and agreeable.

The final factor in personality is reflectiveness. These individuals are quiet, like to work alone, enjoy work that requires accuracy and fine detail. When you look at the above seven factors in personality you can understand why other people and you do certain things. We should all take a look at ourselves from the personality standpoint just as we take a look at ourselves physically.

Comes Now the Great Army of Experts

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Here are the details of the secret deal which Dewey forces made with Lt. Gov. Joe Hanley to get him to withdraw from the New York race for governor.

In case Hanley loses in his race for the Senate against Herbert Lehman, a new job will be created for him on the Thruway Commission—the superhighway now under construction across New York state. This job will pay Hanley $25,000 annually.

In addition, Hanley has been promised $15,000 income from an oil company, making a total of $40,000, or about the income he would have received had he been elected governor.

Finally, friends in the Dewey camp have promised to repay the $30,000 which Kingsland Macy, Frank Gannett and Norman Gould had put up to pay off Hanley's debts. The lieutenant governor had been in difficult financial circumstances and the Macy-Gannett-Gould backers had raised about $30,000 to bail him out.

Rival TV Stars
In the delegates' lounge at Lake Success, a newsman said to Security Council President Sir Gladwyn Jebb, "How does it feel to be a TV idol?"

"It's really quite frightening," replied Jebb, with his Oxford accent. "People come up to me on the street and shake my hand. No member of the British Foreign Office is supposed to be known, not to mention being popular."

"I'm afraid you can't escape it," insisted the newsman. "People are fascinated by you—second only to Milton Berle."

"Berle?" said Sir Gladwyn. "Who's he? The only Berle I know is Adolf Berle, and people aren't fascinated by him."

Down the Drain
It is easy to understand why the Republican policy committee took the unusual step of rushing out with a disavowal of Senator Schoeppel, the bumbling senator from Kansas, after he tried to smear the Red push on Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman.

Chapman's forthright and convincing reply boomeranged against the Republicans badly. Bob Allen expressed it best of all, after Chapman had wound up his testimony.

"I have no money to leave my family," the cabinet officer said, "only my good name and reputation. By the grace of God I'm going to protect it."

"I challenge him. . . I dare you to remove your cloak of immunity and sit in this chair and read your statement," Senator Schoeppel remained silent.

"Do you care to answer?" Chairman O'Mahoney of Wyoming asked.

Schoeppel did not. "Don't you care to question the witness?" invited O'Mahoney.

Schoeppel mumbled something about the fact that his assistant, Frank Bow, who actually prepared his speech, was out of town.

Whereupon Bob Allen, sitting at the press table, announced in a loud stage whisper: "Another cockroach down the drain."

There being no drain present, Senator Schoeppel looked as if he wanted to slide under the table.

Taxpayers Finance Lobby
American taxpayers don't know it, but they have been helping to foot the bill for a lobby run by an ex-convict operating under the high-sounding name of the Committee for Constitutional Government, and supported by such powerful Republicans as Frank Gannett of the Gannett newspaper chain. Its executive secretary, Edward A. Rumely, was jailed as an agent of the Kaiser in World War I.

It has now been disclosed by the House lobby investigation that Rumely's propaganda leaflets have been printed and distributed at a considerable cost to the treasury. A friendly congressman merely places the propaganda in the Congressional record, orders reprints from the government printing office at cost, and sends them out under his congressional frank free.

One senator who bucked at this device was George Malone of Nevada. To him Rumely wrote: "Even if members of Congress, by putting out contrary material incur $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 of expense for the treasury, it would be negligible."

In the same letter Rumely boasted that "15,000,000 franked releases, mostly to small town and rural mailboxes," defeated the New Deal's court plan and intervened in the 1938 elections.

Rumely also revealed "a similar effort" was being conducted against the Fair Deal's medical plan and added cynically, "in war we cannot always choose our weapons."

Among the congressmen who helped ex-German agent Rumely spend the taxpayers' money for his propaganda are: Ralph Gwinn, N. Y.; Frederick "Doc" Smith, Ohio; Daniel A. Reed, N. Y.; former Senator Ralph Hovland, N. J.; and ex-Rep. George W. Schwabe, Okla.—all Republicans.

Note—Rumely wrote a Baltimore friend who wanted to distribute copies of a diatribe against public housing under Gwinn's frank: "The post office in Baltimore may not accept the franked mail, but we have standing authorization in the New York post office and could mail from here if you will supply the addresses on gummed labels."

Johnson's Speechmakers
The heat on Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson has been so intense that he has drafted his top assistants into a special task force to tell the public what a great man Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson is.

After the Korean outbreak Johnson banned everyone in the defense department from making speeches. Therefore, he had some difficulty getting his personal publicity campaign rolling. Finally, however, he announced that the public was entitled to be informed about Korea. Whereupon Johnson's assistant secretary in charge of "political matters," Paul Griffith, rushed out and delivered the first speech. The speech turned out to be chiefly a defense of Johnson.

Sample from the speech: "I am proud to be associated at this critical time with our great Secretary of Defense. . . I want you to know that he is the most sincere, honest and capable executive that can be found anywhere in the world."

This statement must have made a hit with the boss, because Griffith repeated it word-for-word in another speech on September 4. In fact, he hardly changed a comma.

Rearming of Germany Could Bring a Climax in World Affairs by Impressing Reds

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 13.—The most ticklish subject in international relations today is whether or not to reararm Germany. The policy adopted by the Council of Foreign Ministers, now in session in New York, will have a more profound effect on Soviet thinking and strategy than anything that could happen in the Far East.

For the question of reararming Germany revives the age-old fears of the Russians concerning a strong standing army in Germany which could invade their territory. Four years ago the people of Germany signed a peace treaty and gave up their arms. But in the first alliance that Stalin made with Hitler in 1939 and fear of the restoration of German military power is probably to no small extent responsible for the buffers state complex of the Soviets which has led to the infiltration of the Balkan countries immediately adjacent to Soviet Russia.

Many more here have speculated from time to time on the reasons why Moscow has been so anxious to control eastern Germany as well as Poland and why she has felt that the governments of Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria must be under Soviet control. A defense psychology is historically strong in Russian military planning.

For these reasons, the world may witness a momentous development when a policy is finally agreed upon by the United States, France and Great Britain with respect to German reararmament. It could be, on the one hand, a provocation to early military action by the Soviets in the event that they come to believe they must act now to overrun Europe before it is too late. It could, on the other hand, be the very leverage which would force an overall agreement on world problems between the East and the West.

The North Atlantic Pact and the military assistance agreement with the Russians were blueprints that may never be effectively translated into standing armies. The rearining of Germany, however, is a concrete step. It could bring a climax in world affairs.

The French attitude toward rearining Germany has been somewhat equivocal. The very same kind of fear that has been manifested by the Russians. Indeed, France and Russia were allies for many years because they had a common problem—fear of Germany's military power.

Many plans have been suggested as a compromise so as to force Germany to accept the terms of the French. One plan calls for a German army which would be integrated into an allied force.

So the whole problem contains many delicate aspects and will have to be resolved on the basis of a calculated risk. The Soviet army today could march across Germany and into France without difficulty. Air power, which has been counted on to stay the progress, has not much chance to succeed without substantial forces of ground troops.

The Allies will have to make up their minds soon whether to risk a rearmed Germany or a Sovietized Germany. For if the Germans are unable to defend themselves, the Soviet armies will occupy the country and the Allies will find themselves faced with all of the consequences of the possible exception of Spain, where military men say the Pyrenean mountains would provide an effective barrier against invaders.

The real answer lies in what kind of government Germany is to have and whether the Allies are going to ensure a rearmed Germany is not a real ally. The moral and material support which they failed to give a similar effort on the part of Germany in the early 1920's. Ultimately the German people will have to be admitted into the family of nations. There is no reason why the German nation cannot become a part of the free world, and anti-militaristic, too. But this will not happen if the German nation is to be treated definitely as a vassal or as a tool for somebody else's defense.

The time to face up to the German problem has arrived. It involves more than the rearining of Germany. It involves the rebuilding of Germany itself as a republic with the help and material support of the western nations. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 12.—R. C. Holles, who runs seven newspapers in small cities, has published a strong discussion of the other handed or invertebrate administration of editorial trust that is offered as a substitute for integrity and courage in some of our journalism.

Mr. Holles is an upstream thinker and his editorials are distinguished by firm, though often unpopular, positions. He is a good writer, in many cases, disbelievingly good and supports his attitude with arguments that go much deeper than the rusty canons of minor bosses. He is capable of independent thought where others rewrite platitudes of the Washington ideology or point out that there is much to be said for the other side of any given proposition.

In his own Santa Ana, Calif., Register, Mr. Holles wrote that some of his colleagues have become mentally stagnant.

"They run, columnists, who write double talk to confuse the readers in order to get temporary circulation," he said.

"They buy the services of writers who will not define their terms or answer questions. Nor will the editors attempt to answer questions about what they or their columnists write. They have a double standard by which to determine what is useful. They do this in order to run popularity and to get subscribers."

The Register will not run a free press but, according to his own definition, according to his own definition, according to his own definition.

JOBS FOR EX-PATIENTS

Can a tuberculosis patient work and earn a living once he is medically discharged from the hospital? Must he always learn a new occupation? Is his field of work limited?

It is natural for these questions to arise in the mind of the person who has tuberculosis. The answer is that former tuberculosis patients can and do earn a living—at interesting and well-paying jobs in most cases.

Many tuberculosis patients return to their old jobs or professions. But work which might involve excessive physical fatigue or mental strain, or jobs which mean exposure to dust containing free silica such as sand blasting and quarrying, should be avoided by the former tuberculosis patient.

There are literally hundreds of jobs which the tuberculosis patient can fill after he receives his medical discharge. In addition to many types of professional and office work, jobs which are today being successfully filled by former tuberculosis patients range from semi-skilled labor which is not unduly strenuous to highly skilled machinist work.

Moreover, employers report that the job performance of ex-tuberculosis patients compares favorably with records of workers who have never had the disease. Former patients are usually very reliable because they are more aware of the importance of sound health and thus their rate of absenteeism is lower.

Many tuberculosis hospitals have specialists on their staff to advise the patient on work that will be safe and satisfactory for him and, when necessary, even help him prepare for a suitable job. In addition, the various states have vocational rehabilitation bureaus to assist those who need training in new skills or refresher training in old occupations. The doctor and hospital staff members can direct the patient to these agencies and frequently to employers who are aware that ex-patients make valuable, dependable employees.

The wise ex-patient carefully follows the advice of his doctor on seeking and accepting a job after medical discharge, as he did during treatment for his illness. Thereafter, he continues to keep a check on his health by periodic visits to the doctor, as often as his doctor believes is advisable.

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

PUPPY LOVE

For the benefit of the hordes who love dogs and the handfuls who love humans, I reproduce a letter which I received recently from a man who lives in a small town in New Jersey:

Dear Billy:

On Wednesday, August 30, the following item appeared in a New York newspaper:

"Sympathetic neighbors began a door-to-door search in a 25-block area of Yorkville yesterday in a last desperate attempt to save 8-year-old Joseph Young from the perilous necessity of anti-rabies shots. That Friday morning the boy was bitten on the left leg by a small black-and-white fox terrier, and unless the dog is located and found to be free from rabies, Joseph will have to submit to a series of 14 injections. He suffers from a rheumatic heart condition, and the family doctor has warned that the reaction from the shots might be fatal."

Since this item appeared, several similar cases have been reported in the local press, and for the benefit of dog owners who are reluctant to turn over their pets to the authorities under such circumstances, I'd like to pass along the following true story.

A couple of years ago a city family named Myers bought a house in our neck of the woods opposite the Widow McMinn's farm. The Myers had a 9-year-old son named Billy, and Billy had a Scotch terrier named Whiskey—and three weeks after the family moved in the widow hailed them into court on the charge of harboring a vicious animal.

It seems that Whiskey, unused to life in the country, had reduced one of the lady's white Leghorns to a disorderly pile of feathers, and under our local statutes a "killer" dog must be sent to the pound and asphyxiated.

Judge Allan Gedney, however, found two mitigating circumstances—(a) the chicken had committed the initial misdemeanor by trespassing on the Myers' property, and (b) this was Whiskey's first offense, and a city-trained dog could hardly be expected to know all the rural laws.

"Sentence suspended," the judge pronounced Billy, "but from now on the dog is to be muzzled and kept on a leash. And there will be no clemency in case of a second offense."

A week later, Billy was walking Whiskey through town—leashed but unmuzzled—when he bumped into Mrs. McMinn coming out of the supermarket, her arms full of bundles. Scared stiff that she would notice the uncaged nose of his pet, the kid turned and raced down the street—and ran smack-dab into even worse trouble.

The trouble was a local boy named Randy, several inches taller than Billy, who decided he didn't like the "fancy-pants" from the city and started to rough him up. That is, he did until Whiskey sized up the situation and nipped the bully neatly in the leg.

Billy took one look at the blood coozing from his adversary's stocking and another at the Widow McMinn who was still standing in front of the store. Then he grabbed the leash, dashed into the nearest alley and didn't stop running until he was home.

That evening our local paper carried the story about Randy being bitten by an unidentified dog, and at the dinner table Billy's father read it aloud. When he came to the part about the 14 painful injections which Randy would have to take if the dog wasn't located, Billy asked to be excused and went to his room.

Later that evening, knowing full well that it meant the death of his pet, he confessed to his parents that the culprit they were looking for was Whiskey.

Next morning the terrier was found free of rabies, but the parents of Randy filed a complaint against the Myers family. At the trial the same judge presided and to make matters worse, the Widow McMinn stepped forward and asked permission to address the court.

"Your Honor," she began, "it so happens that I witnessed the whole thing, and although, as the Court knows, I ain't overfond of this pickler dog, I want to see justice done. I've always heard tell that self-defense, with or without a weapon, is a good defense in a court of law. Well, seeing as how this small boy was attacked by the bigger boy—and the only weapon he had to defend himself with was his dog—I say that this is a case of self-defense. I think he deserves a whole lot of credit for bringing the critter forward voluntarily."

The prosecuting parties quickly saw the justice of the widow's plea, as did the court, and the case against Whiskey was dismissed. And the last I heard of him, the terrier seemed to be adjusting himself fine to country life.

In other words if Billy's case is any criterion, a dog owner who is honorable enough to take responsibility for the actions of his pet stands a good chance of getting fair-minded and sympathetic treatment in court. And I think you'll grant that I'm in a pretty good position to know about such things.

Very truly yours,
ALLAN J. GEDNEY

Lou Might Have Done a Little Better

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for N.E.A. Service

"We had a hand here recently," writes a Poughkeepsie correspondent, "in which declarer copied one of Larceny Lou's exploits. 'West opened the deuce of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer saw that if he led spades while the king of hearts was still in dummy the opponents would undoubtedly take their club tricks and the ace of diamonds in addition to the ace of spades. This would set the contract.'"

"Declarer therefore took three rounds of trumps ending in his own hand and then led his singleton spade!"

East could not believe that South had deliberately taken all the entries out of the dummy if he had only a singleton spade. He therefore let dummy's king of spades win the first trick in the suit. The rest, of course, was very easy. Declarer could quite comfortably afford to give up two clubs and a diamond.

Has Larceny Lou been copying stunts from our boys up here? Larceny Lou does not mind copying anybody's stunts if they're good ones. However, I must say that in this case East should not have gone wrong. If East trusts his partner, he should know that South has only a singleton spade!

When South leads spades, West is obliged to show how many cards he holds in the suit. With three spades, he plays his lowest card. With two or with four he plays some card other than his lowest.

When West plays the three of spades, obviously his lowest, East knows that his partner has exactly three cards in the suit. He can therefore afford to take his ace and look for tricks elsewhere.

Conceivably West's three of spades is a singleton in that case there is no hope of defeating the contract, since South must obviously hold an honor trick in diamonds for his opening bid and cannot then have four losing tricks.

Local Firm Celebrates September 'Thanksgiving'

The frost may not be on the pumpkin, nor Pilgrims decorating the windows, but it's "Thanksgiving" again at all the 475 Personal Finance Company offices from coast to coast.

"This is our tenth September Thanksgiving," said "YES MAN" George Carpenter today. "We always set aside September as Customer Appreciation Month, our 'Thanksgiving' for the Kingston folk who have selected PERSONAL FINANCE as the company they want to do business with. This year Charles H. Watts, head of our organization, is sending a personal letter to each of our customers to express our appreciation for their friendship."

Carpenter, who is manager at the Kingston office, said that PERSONAL FINANCE likes to do something extra for their customers outside the scope of their normal activities.

"Last year," continued the friendly "YES MAN," "a lot of people came to visit my office and hope they will again this year. In fact, I hope everybody in Kingston will come in during our Thanksgiving celebration. Not our customers alone, but everybody! Just a 'hello' will make me feel good and make our celebration of CUSTOMER APPRECIATION month a real success."

The people at the Personal Finance Company, who are celebrating in the colorfully decorated office, are: George Carpenter, manager; Vincent Bernard, assistant manager; Alice Hann-weber, cashier; Irene Blittles, secretary; Dorothy Carlson, secretary; Janet Roesler, secretary.

Church Institute To Open Tonight

Part of a nation-wide program to combat the forces that are destroying home life in America will be launched in the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets, tonight at 8 o'clock.

The first session of the institute will be held under the guidance of the Rev. Dr. Paul C. White, secretary for religious education of the New York Synod of the Lutheran Church. Other sessions to be held Thursday and Friday evenings will be led by the Rev. J. Victor Benson, pastor of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, Jamaica, and the Rev. Dr. Earl S. Rudisill, secretary of the Parish and Church School Board of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The local institute, which will attract active church leaders from eight Lutheran Churches in Kingston and vicinity, is a part of a series being held this year in more than 300 localities in the United States and Canada. Similar meetings are being held this week in Albany, Canajoharie, Cobleskill and Rhinebeck.

Devotions at the sessions of the institute will be conducted by local Lutheran pastors, the Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor of the host church; the Rev. Erwin W. Gietz, pastor of Saint Paul's Lutheran Church, and the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Landing Gear Collapses

Anchorage, Alaska, Sept. 13 (AP)—A New England air express C-46 with 13 passengers ran into trouble in a rough landing at Merrill Field here yesterday. A landing gear collapsed. No one was injured. The two-engine transport of the non-schedule air line was arriving from Seattle. Capt. John L. Valentine of Minneapolis and Co-Capt. Vincent J. Reavely of Lynbrook, N. Y., said a strong cross-wind may have contributed to the accident. The Civil Aeronautics Board is investigating.

Will Use Taxis

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—The city of New York, which will need all the transportation it can get in event of an atom bomb attack, plans to use its 12,000 taxis and 30,000 cab drivers in event of emergency. The cabbies would be put on duty in addition to regular police cars and other emergency vehicles. Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien said last night.

lights, should decide what is right and uphold the right.

Must a minister say a good word for sin? An editor is not morally obliged to publish statements or contentions which he knows or believes to be false or distorted.

On the contrary, he has a duty not to do so, but actually this has become standard practice in many papers. This is "liberalism." The "liberal" therefore, apparently must print lies and half-truths and disgusted Communist propaganda flowing from the corrupt bureaucracy and leave it to the uninformed public to detect the taint.

It is the editor's duty to the public to detect it and expose it. The public is not in a position to know the background and professional practices and tricks of propagandists operating in the politico-journalistic tenderloin. The editor, however, should know. If he doesn't know, he isn't qualified to edit a paper.

The "liberal" and ethical standard of Washington journalism is very bad. They who would qualify for a by-line according to the standards that were used 30 years ago when the by-line was a distinction earned by superior ability. There are not many more who deserve to be called reporters.

The United Press began the abuse of the by-line. The U.P. had a lot of spoiled kids who rattled all over the world about 1910 to 1925. The pay was modest for those days and they felt that they were getting some compensation in the cumulative publicity given their names.

Mostly their stuff was better than average, but just the same a lot of it was written in the New York office from skeletonized cables. The by-lines gave the U.P. report personality and boosted sales. Journalism lost when the A.P. went to by-lines, for the A.P. report always had been absolutely impersonal and generally reliable, though dull. Later or simultaneously the individual papers also went to by-lines to such an extent that almost everything but the want ads is signed as though it were literature.

From Washington, Press Club loafers constantly harangue instead of reporting and most of them are incapable of forming intelligent opinion or even of stating facts honestly. The bigoted treatment of Senator McCarran has been a disgraceful example of this in some of the most powerful papers in the middle west. The rule of American journalism used to be that the press had a duty to present facts and another duty to keep opinion out of news stories. The rules should be revived and most of the Washington corps called home to cover the county board, the coroner's office and hotel arrivals. (Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS—When East German Communists examine their potato bugs under the magnifying glass, they find their faces look like President Truman, Secretary of State Dean Acheson and other American officials. At least, that's the story they're circulating in the anti-American pamphlet from which this sketch is taken. The Reds call it "documentary proof that American planes are dropping potato bugs to sabotage East German crops."

Troops Protest
Ban on Free Beer

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Frontline troops in Korea who like beer will continue to get it—for free.

This is on the word of a high army official who declined use of his name lest he get all foamed up in controversy.

An army order yesterday removing the one-can-a-day ration in Korea raised a howl of protest heard as far as Washington.

The source said today this has resulted in a compromise. Combat troops had been getting a small can of beer as a free ration. Some of the boys who don't like beer wrote home about it. There were protests. Beer was stricken from the ration.

What was not made clear here home was that the beer was in addition to normal rations and did not take the place of other items," said the source.

"Bottles of soft drinks also have been given to frontline men and many chose cokes over beer. And there was always water, coffee and cocoa."

Under the new arrangements no more beer will be furnished troops from appropriated funds—taxpayers' money allocated by Congress.

But the army has non-appropriated funds. This is revenue from small charges for various items in post exchanges and theatre admissions.

The source said beer will not be free to rear echelon soldiers. They can buy it in rear areas. But the men at the front, where it's 24-hour duty and no time for shopping will get a can almost every day, if they want it.

Soft drinks will continue to be available.

"We have no intention of circumventing the will of Congress," said the source. Congress has the power to direct how public funds should be used. "Beer is an expense and we would not do it if we were not aware of the rugged situation our fighting men are facing without complaint."

"My telephone grows in value
every day"

"Now more and more of my customers can telephone their meat orders!"

Here in Kingston, every businessman knows how much telephone service has increased in value. In the past five years, the number of telephones here has increased by 54 per cent — bringing the present total to 15,000 — which means, of course, that many more of his customers can call him, and he can call them.

This increased value is reflected too in the big jump in calls going through our switchboards. The average number of calls per day has risen from 45,000 to 65,000. These calls indicate the growing importance of the telephone in our town and in our lives. Today, telephone service is a bigger bargain than ever; it has increased in price much less than almost anything else you buy.

Was back in February—the first models of the brilliant new 1951 Kaiser were publicly previewed in major cities across the nation.

The reaction was immediate. Spontaneous enthusiasm from all who saw the great new car. Then beginning on May 10th the 1951 Kaiser was put to the acid test—it was offered, generally for sale to the American public in dealer show rooms from coast to coast.

The result? Everywhere new owners are acclaiming its spectacular low-slung beauty, its hand-sprayed sweeping Control Lower Vision glass to enter High Bridge Doors—its road-hugging low center of gravity—the sensational performance of its new Superpower Engine.

The unprecedented demand for these new cars clearly established the 1951 Kaiser as the value leader in the medium price class. Indeed, a majority of buyers of new 1951 Kaisers are trade-in holders of their makes—to own the only really new cars on the lot!

The extended warranty and the huge 10-year 100,000-mile warranty are the best of their kind in the industry.

Here, too, we suggest that in order placed now as you can get the full delivery of the new 1951 Kaiser at a fraction of the cost.

Union Agent Is Hopeful Strike Will End Tonight

Negotiations were in progress today between Local 17, International Hod Carriers, Building and Construction Workers Union and local contractors for settlement of a work stoppage on two local projects, and a union spokesman said he was "hopeful of a solution by midnight."

It was revealed today for the first time that differences between the union and contractors had also caused a stoppage at the State Teacher College project in New Paltz and at a construction job on a bank there.

The local projects affected are the Washington School on the former Schuler property and the Broadway extension job. The men were reported off their jobs Monday and a union spokesman said a wage rate of $1.75 an hour is sought. This would mean an increase of 20 cents on the hour.

The union spokesman said most of the contractors in the area under jurisdiction of Local 17 had signed the new contract which is effective Aug. 1, and the stoppage resulted when the others failed to sign.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—A morning rush to buy stocks swept the market to a new four-year high today.

Rail stocks, carrying through yesterday's powerful rise, shot up to a new peak since 1931.

Individual issues rolled ahead an extreme of around $2 a share before demand calmed down. Scores of stocks sold at their best prices for a year or more.

Buying was most aggressive when the market opened. Orders to buy flooded into the exchange and for a brief period the ticker tape lagged in reporting transactions from the trading floor. Blocks of stock running to 10,000 shares dotted the tape.

Business hit a 2,000,000-share clip for the first time in around a month.

The advance slowed later but there was little sign of a relapse. Today's rise was a spirited follow-up to a sharp upward move yesterday. The Tuesday rise, however, was negotiated on considerably smaller volume.

Patricia Ann Scudder Becomes Bride Of Robert Fisher Merritt at St. James'

Miss Patricia Ann Scudder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Scudder, Jr., 324 Lucas avenue, became the bride Saturday of Robert Fisher Merritt, of Rome, N. Y., son of Mrs. Frederick Merritt, 113 Emerson street, Kingston.

The double ring ceremony was held at the St. James Methodist Church with the Rev. Merritt C. Johnson officiating, assisted by Dr. Ralph M. Houston.

Elizabeth Sherman, soprano soloist, sang Grieg's "Ich Liebe Dich," Bohn's "Calm as the Night" with violin obligato played by Anthony Messina, and Frank's "Pans Angelicus," also with violin obligato. Mr. Messina played Svedsen's "Romance." At the close of the ceremony, Miss Sherman sang "O Perfect Love" by Barnby. C. Franklin Pierce was the organist.

The church was decorated with four cornucopia baskets of gladioli. The family pews were marked with white satin bows and gladioli. Four pillow baskets were placed at the front, center and back center pews. Candelabra were on the organ and placed among the flowers, and Woodward ferns completed the decorations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the wedding gown of her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Samuel D. Scudder, Sr., a niece of Mrs. George Westinghouse. The gown, first worn 60 years ago, is of broadened ivory satin styled with a fitted bodice, small bustle, full train, and an under train of lace. The bride's hat was in the style of the same period, and she wore her grandmother's veil and gloves. She carried a cascade of ivory gladioli and swansonia.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Sandra Scudder, and bridesmaids were Lella Rae Winton, of Kingston, cousin of the bride, Marjory Merritt, of Kingston, sister of the groom, Amylou Millonig of Kingston and Mrs. Bernard Mize of Hurley.

Their gowns were styled in the same period as the bride's gown, and were made of velvet in pastoral green, worn with matching shoes. The maid of honor wore a matching Dutch-styled bonnet, and carried a cascade of yellow roses. The bridesmaids wore matching picture hats and carried old fashioned nosegays of red rosebuds with ivy.

Ruth Ann Barnshaw, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a gown of pastoral green velvet in the same period as the bride's gown, with a matching poke bonnet tied under her chin. She carried a basket of roses in various colors.

Bernard Mize of Hurley, a fraternity brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Leon Randall of Kingston, cousin of the bride, Thomas Reynolds, also of Kingston, Charles Campbell of Albany and Thomas Cashman of Rome.

A wedding reception was held on the lawn of the bride's parent's home for 250 guests. The wedding cake was topped with a large pink wedding bell—the same one which was used at the wedding of the bride's grandmother 60 years ago. The couple left for a wedding trip to Cape Cod, the bride wearing a hanker's grey suit with black velvet accessories. They will make their home at 127 Ringdahl court, Apartment four, Rome.

The bride took her bachelor's degree in music from DePaul University in Indiana, and her master's degree in music literature from the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, last June. She is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon sorority.

The groom was graduated from Lehigh University in February of this year. A member of Theta Xi fraternity, he is a mechanical engineer with the Rome division of Revere Copper and Brass.

Marshall Recalled

son said that Marshall was a "man of such stature that the very act of naming him to be secretary of defense will promote national and international unity."

The President heartily agreed, and most congressional leaders expressed accord, but there was a legal hurdle.

The law which created the unified defense department contains a clause prohibiting the appointment as defense secretary any man who within 10 years has been on active duty as a commissioned officer of the armed forces.

Marshall left the army as chief of staff soon after the end of World War II in 1945. In fact he still is on active duty under the provisions of the law creating the special five-star rank.

Congressional leaders thought they could get quick action on an amendment to the law to clear the way for Marshall's appointment.

Marshall, who has taken orders all his life, accepted Mr. Truman's request to come back, for the third time, to the pressures and urgencies and demands of Washington official life. From his Leesburg, Va., home the general told reporters the President asked if he would accept the defense post, and that "I told him I would."

Active Since Retiree
Marshall, with more than the 30 required years of military service behind him, took off his uniform in 1945, only to have Mr. Truman ask him shortly to go to China to see what might be done there by this country. He made that arduous and unsuccessful mission, came back, settled down to rest again—and was called back in January, 1947, to be secretary of state. He left the State Department post two years later and for a time was ill, recovering only after hospitalization and months of convalescence. Now he has been summoned again.

Among the charges against Johnson—perhaps the one that eventually impelled Mr. Truman to remove him—was that he had invaded the foreign policy making field of Secretary of State Dean Acheson, that he and others of the military establishment had sought to impose military thinking on the United States' international diplomacy.

Critics Went to Work
But Johnson's critics in and out of Congress didn't confine their accusations to the foreign policy matter alone.

When the Koreans were flushed up and American troops were rolled back by onrushing Red hordes, the critics charged in military spending which Johnson had ordered—and of which he had boasted—became the target of critics. They said his economies had weakened national defense.

President Truman, in his letter yesterday to Johnson accepting the resignation, had warm praise for Johnson's achievements in a reorganizing the service unification program. Mr. Truman said "the country is in debt to you for your pioneering achievements in a field fraught with the greatest difficulties" and that "thanks in great part to your efforts, we build our national defense of the future on a solid foundation."

Split Shatters . . .

Union already is committed to Freeman through the Liberal party, which also nominated him.

Leaders explained their swing away from Impeller by saying his name would have a bad effect on the state vote for Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, and could only increase the victory chances of the G.O.P. minority candidate, State Industrial Commissioner Edmund Corb.

Despite his persistent refusals, there was now talk that Tammany Hall command was again trying to talk Impeller into withdrawing. Although he filed a formal, legal acceptance of his party's nomination Monday, he could still withdraw up to Monday since his name has not extended the deadline time until then.

Impeller already has spurned a Tammany counter-offer of nomination for a $25,000-a-year Supreme Court judgeship.

Meanwhile, the Republican high command, headed by its principal candidate, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, met for its second strategy session here yesterday. The two-day meeting ended last night with no announcement of what plans were made.

It appeared likely, however, that the Republicans were planning for an early start of their "let-them-run" campaign to stimulate the greatest possible G.O.P. registration.

Edgar Hoover that the Communists have been burrowing underground since the Korean invasion. He asked more funds to cope with the situation.

"In my estimation, the problem which we had in the last world war with the Nazi fifth column was very small compared with the problem we have today in this country and in our territories from the so-called Communists and Soviet activities," Hoover said.

Woman Can't Find Her Six Children

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Somewhere in the jungle of Brooklyn or Queens, a North Carolina mother rented a room and left her six children.

Now she can't remember where it is. Mrs. Ruth Stevens, 39-year-old Negro widow from Gladstone, N. C., revealed her bewildering plight yesterday. The only clues she had were these:

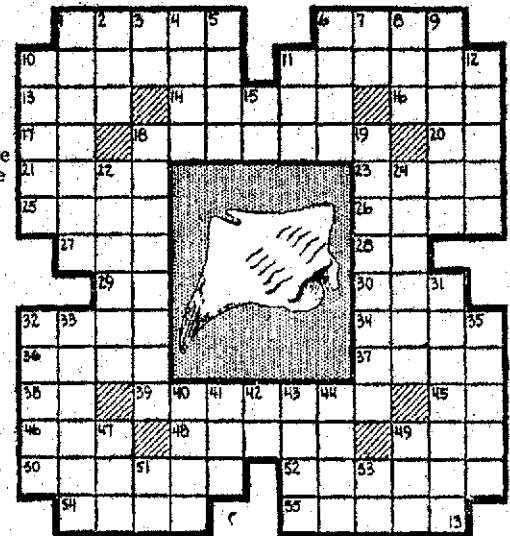

From a Manhattan bus depot, she and her children, ranging in age from one month to 18 years, took a taxicab across "a bridge with trains on it." The driver took them to a rooming house in a neighborhood with "lots of funeral parlors and a dime store."

There, she rented a room. Then she took a subway to pick up some luggage at the bus terminal. At Times Square, she suddenly realized with horror that she didn't know the address of the rooming house, nor how to get back.

Police, who took Mrs. Stevens to a women's shelter for the night,

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

New Music School Held for Children

Woodstock, Sept. 13—Norma Reiner, who launched the Reiner School this summer in Woodstock, has carried out a new and fascinating idea with a music school for young children.

The school was divided into two groups. In the older class with students ranging from six to nine years of age, concentrating on instrument exploration, were Barry Cohn, David Albis, Andrew Fodder, Konrad King, Michael Hood, Jeff Lawrence, Drew Elwyn and John Greene. In the pre-school music group were the three to five-year-olds, consisting of Madeline Faber, Sherry Herbert, Bobby Greenberg, Naddy Pachner, Charles Reiner and Tony Green. Both groups attended the course of 16 sessions, held twice weekly, which was the equivalent in every respect of a full winter term.

Mrs. Reiner also conducted a course of instruction for three groups of children ranging in ages from two to six at Gretchen Smith's Nursery School in Woodstock.

Explaining her teaching methods, Mrs. Reiner said that the instrument exploration class for the older group was presented in a series of progressive steps. First came outside rhythms, using nature subjects. When these basic rhythms had been absorbed by the children, they were shown on music paper. An apple, for example, was cut up to further the notes transcribed for them the comprehension of note values.

The subject of notation was enhanced by relating to the children the story of Mr. and Mrs. Cleft and their children. The climax of learning simple notation and written music values was achieved when each child composed a short song.

The second part of the course was devoted to ear training. A ladder was drawn with chalk on the floor. As the tones, played on the piano progressed upward, a child was asked to jump from rung to rung, up and down the scale. The exercise also was played with paper and pencil. At the end of this phase the children had composed a song containing eight stanzas concerning their activities.

Actual instrument work was done as the third part of the course. Each child learned to play the flutophone, a simple flute, and each week a different instrument was demonstrated for the children. Each child was given ample opportunity to touch, examine, hold and try to play the instruments. The following young musicians assisted Mrs. Reiner, who played the piano, in the demonstration: Gill Lawrence, violin; Jack Sylvester, guitar; Jeffrey Lawrence, drums; Wuyon Gruber and Bill Hecker, baritone horn; Nadia Lawrence, flute; Jeffery Lawrence, trombone and Nadia Lawrence, clarinet.

With open school week for the parents the summer season of the school ended.

Boy, 14, Injured; Taken to Hospital

Donald Sillman, 14, of 43 Clinton avenue, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg when he came in contact with a car near his home last night. His condition was described as "fairly good" at Kingston Hospital today.

The police report at 8:55 p. m., said Francis M. Fyfe, 103 Wall street, reported that he was heading north on Clinton avenue between Henry and Cedar streets when a box car ran from in front of a parked car near 14 Clinton avenue and came in contact with "the right rear fender or bumper."

"The boy was taken to the hospital by Attorney Karlund F. Snyder. Police were informed that the fracture was between the knee and ankle.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

We are living such an unrelentingly, topsy-turvy existence today that one's mind sometimes goes back to other weird periods in history.

I cannot explain just why the Ruminator's mind reverted to the South-Sea-Bubble era (in England, 1720) unless it is the extravagant wage and dividend booms that are now being bemoaned about by American industrialists.

Anyway, to get away from serious things for a moment, a great speculation broke out in England, when the South Sea Company placed before the Parliament a great scheme for paying off the national debt in return for "underwriting" the debt.

The South Sea Company was a monopoly on overseas trade, particularly with South America. While the trade with South America didn't amount to much, the "vision" of vast wealth captured peoples' minds and soon the stock in the company became a popular speculative football.

It so happened that over across the Channel, in France, at about this same time, John Law's "Mississippi Scheme" was achieving its promised heights. As Charles Mackay described it in his wonderful "Memoirs of Extraordinary Popular Delusions" (published in 1882, but in American reprint of this entertaining work was brought out a few years ago by T. C. Page & Co. of Boston), as stated by Mackay, the English commenced their career of extravagance somewhat later than the French, but as soon as the delirium seized them they were determined not to be outdone.

Speculation spread from the South Sea Company shares into all manner of new promotions and companies. Mackay lists over 80 promotions that sprang up overnight and which he labels "Ponies" as they soon burst into valueless spray after a brief flight of fancy.

Number 17 in the list has fascinated readers of this column. It was titled "For carrying on an undertaking of great advantage, but nobody to know what it is." It is related the promoter was successful in floating his shares, whereupon he took the money and disappeared for unknown parts.

You, the reader, will immediately say to yourself: "How gullible people were in those days!" However, history is full of equally wild speculations and foolhardy ventures.

And just to prove that some writers must still believe people are gullible, let me tell you about a form letter received in the mail this week. It was from an outfit in the mid-west, although the letterhead does not describe the business.

It starts out as follows: "Hello! My Sucker Friend!"

With this unusual greeting, the letter goes like this: "You are a SUCKER just like I am! Like me, you want to be RICH! Well, I am the only one who has even attempted to become a millionaire by begging a million bucks from suckers. ALL I WANT YOU TO DO IS TO SEND ME A DOLLAR BILL BY RETURN MAIL IN THE ENCLOSED ADDRESSED ENVELOPE WHICH REQUIRES NO STAMP."

Now you are asking "What do I get in return for MY dollar bill?" That's a fair question. Perhaps, NOTHING. Perhaps, a THOUSAND DOLLARS! It all depends upon what use you make of the information that I shall send you. In return for your dollar bill I shall send you a money-making plan for you to use which I believe will NET YOU MANY HUNDRED PER CENT on the dollar you send me!

The letter-writer then goes on to urge the sending of the buck, by concluding: "For the increasing ranks of SUCKERS! Many a person whom the world considered a SUCKER has become RICH!"

That is not so different from the promotion of 230 years ago, do you think? How many dollar bills do you suppose have been returned on this blind promise: "an undertaking of great advantage, but no one to know till he transmits a buck?"

The more you read history and study the great manias and illusions of the past you recognize the reasons for the queer things that go on today. Human nature hasn't changed. Henry T. Tuman can still charm the crowds around the wild developments, yet make errors and mistakes that will go down in history. I guess the letter-writer quoted above is right: we're all suckers under the skin.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

I have been given an item from the "Herald Tribune" covering the Library of Congress at Washington D. C. which celebrated its 150 years in April of 1950. It seems that on April 24, 1800, President John Adams signed a bill appropriating $5,000 for establishing the library in Capitol Building, being built in Washington, the seat of government at that time was in Philadelphia.

The first Library of Congress consisted of 11 half-cowhide trunks of books and a case of maps purchased from a London book firm for about $2,300. In May, 1861, the 740 volumes were placed in the office of the clerk of the Senate. The first Librarian was Virginia's John J. Beckley, clerk of the House of Representatives. Today the library is the world's largest containing a grand total of some 28,000,000 pieces, handled by a staff of 1,900 employees. The material received every year now totals more than 7,000,000 items. Books, manuscripts, pamphlets, bound newspaper volumes, photographs, prints, phonographs, records, motion pictures and microfilm provide a complete chronicle of the march of man through the centuries. The investment in the library is about $118,000,000. The annual maintenance cost now is equivalent to a tax of five cents on every person in the U.S.A. Two of the priceless items are the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

They have the oldest book printed from movable type, the famous Gutenberg Bible, printed between 1450 and 1455. Oldest manuscript in the library is a Babylonian clay tablet dating from several thousand years before Christ. Oldest newspaper of which the library has a complete file is "The London Gazette" from 1665. Music collection contains some 1,827,000 including scores in the original handwriting, as such music masters as Bach, Beethoven, Schubert and Wagner. Also they have Nick Carter serials. Remember them in the early 1920's?

The library strictly speaking, belongs to Congress, although at times it is called the National Library. Congress has extended the use of its facilities to the public, but its service is geared primarily to meet the needs of Congress, although last year alone the staff in the general reading room selected about 175,000 volumes in response to requests for general information and answered some 30,000 telephone inquiries on new subjects.

Why the Library of Congress of Washington D. C. is of special interest to Ulster County residents and Kingstonians is because our famous Ulster County Gazette of January 4, 1800, does thing the funeral of George Washington was printed in Kingston by Samuel F. Fox and the outline copy is at this library. It is said it wasn't until November of 1930 that an original was found and now in their files. Another original exists and is in the American Antiquarian Society of Worcester, Mass. The Periodical Division of the Library of Congress has also issued an information bulletin on our Ulster County Gazette of 1800, but so far no resident of Ulster county seems to own an original although it was printed right here. Perhaps one is hid somewhere in an old trunk or attic and may come to light some day.

Synthetic Rubber

Akron, O. (AP)—The nation's present rubber supply position is much better than it was in 1940, according to figures compiled by the B. S. Goodrich Co. In 1940 the United States consumed 650,000 tons of rubber, 97 per cent of which was imported from the Far East. At that time this country had the capacity to produce only 4,500 tons of man-made rubber of all types. Today the nation is consuming rubber at a rate of more than 1,000,000 tons a year but has facilities for producing 940,000 tons of American rubber. Output of man-made rubber will be at the rate of 740,000 tons early in 1951.

Was Deeply in Debt

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—June Cowl, one of the country's foremost actresses, was deeply in debt when she died last June. It was disclosed in surrogate's court yesterday that she left assets of only $10,000 against debts of $15,000. She had no known relatives. Not until 1918 did Harvard University admit women to any of its graduate schools.

Kingston and Saugerties 'Old Timers' Ready for Big Game on Sunday

Former Diamond Heroes Clash At Saugerties

Culliton to Start For Local Vets

Old time baseball stars of ancient and not so ancient vintage of Saugerties and Kingston are scheduled to meet in the "Old Timers" game Sunday at Canton Field in Saugerties.

The original contest, scheduled for August 20, was washed out by rain.

The casts are intact for the revival of the rivalry between the two teams. Managers Les Brink and Joe Hoffman announced today.

The village of Saugerties is making elaborate preparations to welcome its old heroes back to the scene of their former glories and the ceremonies will include a parade, speech making at the park, and a reception for both teams after the game.

The game is sponsored by the C. A. Lynch Hose Fire Company, with the proceeds going to the Kiddies Home Candy Fund.

Old Stars Return

Virtually every outstanding player of the middle 20s and 30s will appear on the Kingston roster which will be headed by John "Mac" McCord, who managed the Kingston All Stars for several years.

A partial roster for the Kingston squad includes:

Pitchers: Bud Culliton, James "Babe" Volker, Dewey Van Buren, Walt Black (lefty), Baker Jimmy Doyle, Dick Williams and Bill Thomas.

Catchers: For Hoffman, Gene Ricker, Steve Erdick, Dick Dulin and Joe Messinger.

Infielders: Ed Loe, Borgevin, Hank Cragan, Charlie Timm, Fritz Brubak, Lou Dulin, Bob Sickle, Carl "Hutch" Glaser, Joseph "Kid" Moore, Tommy Davis, Johnny Carpenter and Frank "Boss" Leslie.

Outfielders: Charlie Lay, Fred Knight, Jimmy Merrill, Jack Dawkins, Stan Colvin, Bill Schwab and Bob Lynch.

Schmidt to Catch

Supreme Court Justice Harry Schmidt, manager of the original Kingston Colonials, and Jimmy Morgan, a local star of all-time stature, will handle the coaching duties for the locals. Jack Hartman will serve as official scorer. The game for Kingston, with Harold "Big" Jones, honorary booking manager for the day.

Saugerties has lined up a powerful array of former greats and a few who are still capable of playing a great brand of ball. The partial list includes:

Hank Desmond will be umpire-in-chief, with Bill Finger and Frank Whitaker on the bases. George Crozier of Kingston will be an honorary umpire for the game.

Honorary guest, and coaches for the day will also include Chief of Police A. W. Radtke, who managed the original Saugerties, C. C. Freddie Tompkins, Chet Tompkins and Alex Schultz, all of whom have been outstanding in Saugerties baseball history.

Perlmutter Hits .486 to Lead City League Batters

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

While bowling enjoys unprecedented national prosperity—and figures to reach an all-time peak in Kingston this season—its biggest show, the annual American Bowling Congress tournament, is in a sad state of affairs.

There is nothing wrong with the ABC tournament that a Bill Vecek or Larry MacPhail couldn't cure, with the touch of vaudeville they added to major league baseball.

That was the consensus of seasoned observers at the dreary 60-day session of kepling in Columbus, Ohio, this spring. Elmer H. Baumgarten, the national secretary, said that the ABC did "not make a dime from the two months of activity."

Biggest handicap to be hurdled by the ABC is an anemic box office. Spectators just didn't seem to care to turn out in huge numbers to watch the pin-topplers. (Even in Kingston, the cash customers didn't exactly knock down the doors trying to get into the state women's tennis carnival.)

• To Shift Hotshot Squads:

During the entire stand in Columbus, the ABC played to approximately 30,000 paid customers, roughly 500 a day, operating morning, afternoon and night. Frequently there were as few as five to seven customers in the huge State Fair Coliseum.

As Baumgarten sees it, the ABC will be given a shot in the arm at St. Paul in 1951, when the schedule is revised. Doubles and singles were bowled in the morning and afternoon in Columbus, while the five-man teams took over later in the evening.

The ABC schedule at St. Paul in 1951 will be arranged to spot the hot shot teams in the middle of evening, at 7:30 or 8 p. m. Officials feel the time is the best to attract a majority of bowling fans. During the 1950 tournament, most "name" teams bowled on the last, or 10:15 shift, too late to serve as much of a gate attraction. (The reason is obvious: Hotshot teams don't want any part of the stiff, glossy alleys of early evening.)

Officials also are pondering the staging of a round-robin for nationally famous bowlers after they have competed in the tournament. This would be designed to attract such luminaries as Junie McMahon, Buddy Bonar, Ned Day, Andy Varipapa and a host of others.

Other items the ABC plan to get around installing at St. Paul—and this is where a Vecek or MacPhail comes in—include vaudeville acts and a dance orchestra. There may be a clown bowling act or two, although several of the legitimate scores rolled would pass for good comedy.

The 1952 timber attack has been awarded to Milwaukee and by that time several changes are certain to have been made in the ABC setup. All with the hope of stimulating business at the sagging box office.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

What happens in the Russo Major League now that Marty Kellmeyer and "Red" Sand have adroitly maneuvered 40 or more of the area's premier trundlers into the Railroad Avenue lanes for a Wednesday night league? Are we to have three major circuits, with the Ferraro wheel holding forth at 7 p. m. on Thursdays, followed by the second half of the doubleheader at Russo's at 9:15 p. m.? Makeup of some of the squads in the Central Rec. Major recalls the old saw about giving a man a horse he can ride. And a bowler the alleys he can hit. The Central Recs are dream drives for the average regular and they still pay all over scores. To the extent few socially conscious bowlers of yesterday are willing to change their mind and come back to the old haunts. A bowler guards his average like the gutter watches his club handicap. You can compare stiff alleys with 7,000-yard championship courses and soft alleys with pitch-and-putt golf layouts. It's only human nature to take the least line of resistance in sports. And, if they are paying the freight, can you blame them?

• The Tenth Frame:

New Lexington lanes considered among the slickest in the area. Marty Kellmeyer, the doughiekeeper proprietor and alley mechanic, didn't bank a single league this season. Says he will rely on open bowling. To the surprise of nobody in the bowling know, Junie McMahon of Chicago and Marion Ludewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., have been selected as the male and female Bowler of the Year. . . . Both are national match game champions. Now that Junie is getting to be a great big boy, wonder if Rose Schatzel will resume match game competition? Jean Mickey Michaels of New York has never forgotten the shellingack Rose handed her a few seasons back and has been thinking for revenge ever since. Three big names in local women's bowling—Helen Murphy, Evelyn Dolson and Bea Barclay—will be out of action this season, due to injuries and illness. Wonder why such established name stars as Marge Jansen, Charlotte Lapine and Phyl Gehring shun the women's major circuit?

Help your league secretary. Remember, he's not a sucker!.

LaMotta 5-9 Choice Over Dauthuille

red, promoter Nick Londres of the International Boxing Club looks for a crowd of 13,000 to pay 100,000. If he is right, it will be a new Detroit indoor record.

The old mark of 88,322 was set in 1947 for a welter-title battle between Ray Robinson and Chuck Taylor.

Detroit, Sept. 13 (AP)—Middleweight champion Jake LaMotta is expected to face Laurent (Tazun) Dauthuille of France tonight in a 15-round title bout at the Olympia Stadium. Ring time is 10 p. m. (E.S.T.).

Back in the city where he wrestled the crown from another Frenchman—the late Marcel Cerdan—15 months ago, LaMotta rules a 5 to 9 favorite. No knock-out is predicted.

Schafer Notes High Interest in Basketball

Because of increased interest in the Y.M.C.A. basketball setup, the Y. Autumn League may feature two divisions based on age limitations, physical director Lou Schafer hinted today.

Pointing out that 14 teams were represented at last night's preliminary organization meeting—and there is a good chance of an additional six entering—Schafer said there was considerable sentiment among the managers to divide the league into two divisions.

"Some of the managers feel that a split league would give some of the younger and less experienced teams a better chance," Schafer said. "This possibility will be discussed at our next meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 20."

The teams represented last night were:

Boulevard Ace Tops Crack Field For Batting Crown

Fisher, Barnes, Waizka Are Leading Pitchers

Danny Perlmutter, Tommy Maines, Artie Barnes, Jackie Waizka, Tommy Fisher are among City League standouts cited in partial, final statistics released today by Secretary Ed Murphy.

Perlmutter, ex-Kingston Colonial in the Class B League, who took over the managerial role for Boulevard Gulf, paced the twi batters with a robust .486.

Three other batters achieved the stratospheric .400 circle. Tom Heneberry, Wilwyck Motors, had .423; Bob Slover, Morgan's Rest, .420; and Tommy Maines, Jones Dairy, .410.

Maines led in three departments, home runs with 4; runs batted in, 17; and most runs scored, 19.

Barnes recorded a 5-1 pitching record for the championship Chez Emile squad, while Fisher posted an 8-2 record for Jones Dairy. Waizka's brilliant 1.13 earned-run average per game topped that department. Ernie McCormick, the New Paliz workhorse finished with 1.35 and Artie Barnes had 1.23, all commendable records.

Bob Slover, of Morgan's Rest, pounded most hits, 21, while Ken Lowe's six doubles for Chez Emile paced the pack. Bob Rybnaker of Colonial Merchants was the Ty Cobb of the circuit with 14 steals.

Fisher and McCormick waged a keen duel for strikeout honors with 77 and 71 respectively.

The leaders: Perlmutter, Boulevard, .486; Heneberry, Wilwyck Motors, .423; Bob Slover, Morgan's Rest, .420; Tom Maines, Jones Dairy, .410.

Hits—Bob Slover, Morgan's, 21; Perlmutter, Boulevard, 16.

Runs—Maines, Jones Dairy, 19; Rybnaker, Colonial Merchants, 16.

Runs batted in—Maines, Jones Dairy, 17; Vork, Boulevard, 14.

Doubles—Ken Lowe, Chez Emile, 6; Heneberry, Tom Carline, Tex Brown, 5.

Triples—Eleven tied with one.

Home Runs—Maines, Jones Dairy, 4; Lindhurst, Chez Emile, 3.

Stolen bases—Rybnaker, Colonial Merchants, 14; Ronnie Scheffel, Dick Dulin, George Glaser, 5.

WEAVER IN ARMY REGALIA

Never a small fellow, the West Point fourth B annual lists John Edward Weaver as a young giant, 6 feet 3 inches, 230 pounds "of potential varsity material in both football and basketball. At Kingston High, "Big Ed" was an all-time center and a varsity athlete in three other sports—football, basketball and track. He also won letters in football, basketball and baseball at Valley Forge Military Academy. Weaver, who will wear No. 88 at the Point this season, is being tried at end by Coach Earl Plunk. The Army annual also notes with considerable interest that "listening to classical and modern music is one of his favorite pastimes." (U. S. Army Photo)

50-Lap Feature Set at Rhinebeck

A double dose of speed and thrill driving will be in the making Saturday night at Rhinebeck Speedway when the racing stock cars go 50 laps in the feature event instead of the usual 25.

With preliminary events starting at 8:30, crash artists who are rated tops in auto racing will be at their best trying to qualify for the long grind especially since heavy cash goes into this event along with a lovely trophy and double points which are so important to all.

Among the heavy-footed stock car pilots will be Jack McQuinn who still leads with points for Rhinebeck 1950 championship and very close behind Ray Brown for recent leadership. Ray also is entered for Saturday along with popular Bob Davern, who has been doing exceptionally well this year.

Bob Tator, Stan Dushow, Larry Shurtner, Hal McCarthy, Gene Cady and others who were without their regular mounts last week will be back in action for the 50 Lap race Saturday along with other favorites from near and far who make up the long list of entries.

Easter's Homer Wrecks Yanks; Tigers, Red Sox Win Squeakers

Easter Powers Two Homers in Cleveland

By RALPH HODEN

Associated Press Sportswriter
With Big Lake Easter as the ringleader, the smarting Cleveland Indians are moving back into the American League pennant race in the role of "sneakers".

Knocked out of contention and blasted by their bosses, the Indians are out to redeem themselves at the expense of the three remaining contenders, Boston, New York and Detroit.

"They began to reap revenge last night by defeating the New York Yankees, 8-7, on a three-run homer by Easter in the ninth inning.

The defeat sent the Yankees into second place, a half game back of the Detroit Tigers who scored a 3-2 afternoon triumph over the Washington Senators.

Cleveland has one more game with the Yankees, six with the Tigers and two with the third place Boston Red Sox. The Red Sox, still moving relentlessly forward, clinched within a game of the lead by edging the Chicago White Sox, 2-1.

Reynolds Collapses
Home runs in the first two innings by Joe DiMaggio, Phil Rizzuto and Yogi Berra shot the Yankees off to a 6-0 lead in a rain-soaked game.

Early Wagon was the victim of the Yankee bombardment but after that the world champions were effectively checked by Dick Wisk, Sam Zolnick and Steve Gronick.

Home runs by Larry Doby and Easter shaved the deficit to 6-4 by the fifth.

It appeared the Yankees had the game in the bag when Jim Heggen grounded out to open the Cleveland ninth.

Allie Reynolds, who had allowed only four hits, blew up and walked two batters. He was hurriedly lifted for Tom Ferrick. Bob Kennedy greeted Ferrick with a run and a double. Doby struck out but Easter then slammed Ferrick's first pitch over the rightfield fence to break up the game.

Tigers Shade Nats
The Tigers had rough shelling before squashing the Senators. Old Dix Trout went all the way for the Bengals and permitted eight hits while his nines collected only five off Gene Bearden and Mickey Harris.

Detroit clipped Bearden for two runs in the third on a walk and doubles by George Keil and Vic Wertz. Wertz homered for the winning run in the fifth. The Senators scored in the sixth and added their final run in the eighth on a homer by Ed Stewart.

Lefty Mel Parnell turned in a neat five-hitter in recording his fifth victory and eighth straight for the Red Sox under the lights in Chicago. The Sox now have won 24 out of their last 27 games.

The St. Louis Browns, behind the three-hit pitching of Al Widmar, blanked the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-0.

Phillies Win
In the National League the Philadelphia Phillies moved a step closer towards the pennant by posing out the St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0, behind the five-hit pitching of Robin Roberts, who attained his 10th victory.

The Cardinals' Max Lanier and Al Brazle surrendered only three hits but one was a fifth inning homer by Andy Seminick who celebrated his 30th birthday.

The victory kept the Phils 6½ games ahead of the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers who collected only one hit in beating Sewell Blackwell and the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1.

Blackwell lost the game in the eighth inning when he hit a batter, committed an error and wild pitched home a run that broke a 1-1 tie. The third run scored on an infield out. Gene Hermanski singled in the fourth for the lone Brooklyn hit. Carl Eskine went the mile for the Dodgers allowing three safeties.

The New York Giants' Sheldon Jones blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-0, for the 17th shutout by the Giants this year.

The Giants moved to within a half game of the third place Boston Braves who dropped a 3-1 night game decision to Bob Rush and the Chicago Cubs.

ABC Asks Further Word on Stripper; Declines Any Ban

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—The American Broadcasting Company has declined to accept without substantiating evidence—a Chicago American Legion official's charge that Gypsy Rose Lee has pro-Communist sympathies.

In a related move, an A.B.C. theatrical union denounced "irresponsible smearing of the reputations of actors to an extent which is becoming alarmingly dangerous."

The union condemned the dismissal of actress Gypsy Rose Lee from a television show after she was listed in "Red Channels," a privately published booklet listing 150 radio figures allegedly having Communist connections.

Miss Lee, stripper and author scheduled to star in a new A.B.C. show starting Saturday, was dismissed Monday by Edward Clarnage, chairman of the Illinois

Legion's Anti-Subversive Committee

He said she reportedly was a "dear and close associate of traitors of our country." Noting that her name appeared in "Red Channels," he asked A.B.C. asking what it was going to do about her program.

Robert E. Kintner, A.B.C. president, yesterday replied that Miss Lee had signed a sworn affidavit denying any Communist sympathies or ties. The message to Clarnage added:

"If you have any evidence to the contrary, please advise. Meanwhile, the council of the A.B.C. Actors Equity Association said some employers in the industry were 'allowing themselves to be intimidated by a few private individuals and publications who, in the irresponsible manner of Vigilantes, have improperly assumed the functions of government.'"

The council specifically protested the dismissal of Miss Lee from a show by the sponsor, General Foods Corp. The company said she had become "too controversial." Miss Lee denied any Communist links.

Must Lose 12 Ounces
Detroit, Sept. 13 (AP)—Challenger Laurent Dauthuille, weighed in three quarters of a pound over the 160-pound middleweight class limit today in his bout with Champion Jake Lamotta tonight at Olympia Stadium. Dauthuille was given until 1 p. m. E.S.T. to melt off 12 ounces. Lamotta weighed 159½. Lamotta and Dauthuille square off for 15 rounds at 10 p. m. E.S.T.

Typhoon Fizzles
Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—A typhoon moving northward today almost fizzled out. But another appeared to be developing north of the Carolines, about 1,700 miles south of Tokyo.

mission. Also sitting in as observers are representatives of the Ohio Public Utility Commission and the army.

The 33 victims, field artillerymen from the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., area, were enroute to Camp Atterbury, Ind. The Pennsylvania's fast passenger train, the "Spirit of St. Louis" tore out of the pre-dawn darkness last Monday and smashed into the rear of the stalled troop train at West Lafayette near Coshocton, Ohio.

70 Are Injured
At least 75 others were injured in the crash. Four of the dead still are unidentified.

The investigation is expected to supply the answer to a lot of why's in connection with the train crash.

Why did an air hose on the troop train break?

(This locked the brakes and stalled the train.)

Why did automatic signals fail to stop the onrushing passenger train?

Why did the Spirit's engine crew fail to see the red flares on the track? Why did the engineer fail to see the disabled troop train on the same track?

Is Key Witness
William Eller, 65-year-old engineer of the Spirit's diesel locomotive, is the key witness at the hearing. He has been under a doctor's care at his "Midway, Pa., home since the fatal crack-up.

The funeral train for the return of the dead to relatives in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., departed at noon (EST) today. The escort from the 28th Division at Camp Atterbury planned to meet the train at West Lafayette, O., this afternoon.

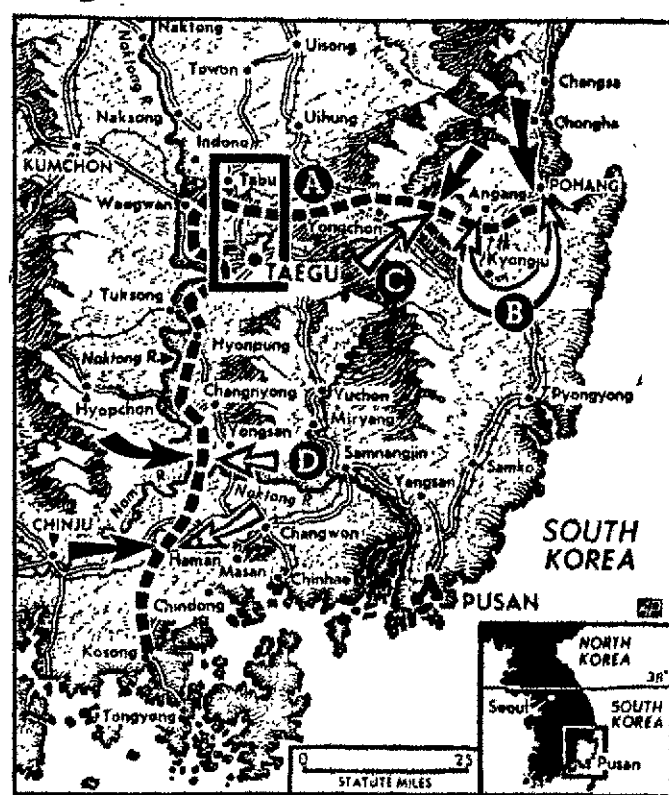

The train leaves West Lafayette at midnight tonight and reaches Wilkes-Barre at 12:40 p. m. (EST) tomorrow. A special guard of honor will board the train at Pittsburgh at 3 a. m.

Will Send Troops
Berlin, Sept. 13 (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark said today the first units of fresh American troops to strengthen the U. S. garrison in Europe would start arriving in Germany before spring. The chief of the U. S. Army ground forces told correspondents on his one-day visit to Berlin that President Truman's decision to bolster West European against Communist threat would be implemented by the army as quickly as possible.

Gives Her Explanation
London, Sept. 13 (AP)—Florence Lindy, 28, explained in court today why she heaved a brick through a window at the main studio of the British Broadcasting Corporation. "I felt the place needed to be lived up a bit. We have been having some lousy programs lately."

To Question Him
Major Harold D. Banning, army finance officer in Berlin, grins broadly as he is booked at Reno, Nev., Sept. 12, for army authorities who said they want to question him about the possible misappropriation of $250,000 at Berlin headquarters. Major Banning told sheriff's deputies and army criminal investigators who arrested him at a dude ranch that "it is all a misunderstanding." (AP Wire-photo.)

reans and Americans west across "billygoat" country—or worse.

The Reds were massed in a corridor running between high peaks. South Koreans already had sealed the northern pass.

Davidson's composite force swept over three ridges at the southern gate.

Planes Bomb Enemy
Allied warplanes showered jelled gasoline fire-bombs and machinegun fire at the Communist dug-in on flint slopes. "Task Force Davidson" stormed the heights.

The remnants of about 700 Reds who were holding the southern gate fled to the northwest. They either had to scramble over peaks to their own lines or face death or capture.

To the west, South Koreans striking from two directions converged on Hill 343 southwest of Angang, where at least one regiment of Reds were putting up stiff resistance.

This was the last major gap in the allied line.

But on the east coast, the Red Korean Fifth Division still plastered allied defenses around Pohang airport with mortar fire. The field was called "secure" by an American spokesman but only emergency flights to evacuate wounded were permitted.

To Hold Conference

READY FOR WORLD TOUR—After 18 months of hard work, Italian architect-hobbyist Attilio Savio, right, and his son Lucio, finish up their scale model of St. Peter's basilica. First complete and accurate reproduction of the famous church since 1500 A. D., the model is complete in every detail, even to working fountains and electric lighting. Blessed by the Pope, it will go on a world-wide tour. (Photo by NEA-Acme photographer Massimo Ascani.)

Nine of Panel . . .

Executive who now resides in Woodstock.
Thirteen jurors were examined during the morning session and the afternoon session proceeded slowly as many of those called stated it would be impossible to remain away from home for any considerable period due to home ties of various natures. These were excused by consent. Both the prosecution and the defense have excused four each by peremptory challenge.
Defense Indictment
Although the defense has not yet disclosed the pattern of defense, several questions put to prospective witnesses during the examinations indicate a defense of temporary insanity, loss of memory of inability to understand the act at the time it was committed.
Several of the prospective jurors have been asked by William A. Kelly, trial counsel for defense, whether they would acquit the defendant if it were shown that he was "incapable of knowing the nature of the act" or that he did not know the difference between right and wrong at the time of the commission of the act. Charles J. Saraceno, attorney for the defendant along with Guido Napoleone and William A. Kelly, of counsel.
Another question which may indicate the direction of the defense is that which pertains to whether a person is prejudiced against any person who drinks. This indicates the defense may offer testimony to the effect that the defendant was either in a mental state or had been drinking before the commission of the act and did not know the nature of the act at the time.
Thus far the defense has not offered any direct indication as to the course of defense.
Kelly is charged with having shot to death with a rifle, Mrs. Elizabeth McHugh, 44, of 92 Green street, who was walking to work on the morning of May 22. The shooting took place on the busy block between Wall and Fair street and within a few hundred feet of the place where Mrs. McHugh worked. After the alleged shooting of Mrs. McHugh, Kelly turned the gun on himself and inflicted a slight wound in the temple.

Killed in Crash

States' Political Pictures

Manchester, N. H., Sept. 13 (AP)—Sen. Charles W. Tobey rode over charges that he is a "Truman Republican" to win re-nomination today by a slim margin over a protégé of Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.).
In one of the bitterest battles of his 35-year political career, Tobey topped 34-year-old Wesley Powell, World War 2 veteran and a former Bridges secretary, by 1,127 votes.
The final unofficial tally in the Republican primary gave Tobey 39,003 votes to 37,876 for Powell. Powell, who said he would seek a recount, campaigned on the promise that Tobey is a "Truman Republican" and "too liberal" for New Hampshire. He contended the veteran, seeking his third term, bolted the party on some issues.
Tobey's answer was that he was "no rubber stamp for either the Republican party or any group within the party."
Democratic National Committeeman Emmet J. Kelley was unopposed for the Democratic nomination to oppose Tobey in November.

Williams Named
Seattle, Sept. 13 (AP)—A 35-year-old Seattle businessman appeared today to be the man who will carry the Republican banner in the attempt to unseat Washington's two-term Democratic U. S. Senator Warren G. Magnuson.
He is W. Waller Williams, who held close to a 2-to-1 lead over his nearest opponent for the G.O.P. nomination as nearly one-half the state's 4,238 precincts reported on yesterday's primary election results. Magnuson, unopposed for his party's nomination.
The state's six incumbent congressmen, four Republicans and two Democrats, were either unopposed for re-nomination or won easily in yesterday's balloting.

Carr Wins in Colorado
Denver, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ralph L. Carr, who led a resurgence of the Republican Party in Colorado 12 years ago, won his party's nomination for a new term as governor in yesterday's Colorado primary elections.
Carr trounced Roy H. Brannaman, former national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, by more than 2 to 1.
The vote in 1408 of the 1679 precincts gave Carr 45,351 and Brannaman 21,556.
Carr will face Governor Walter W. Johnson, Democrat, in November. Johnson, 48-year-old insurance man, was nominated by the Democrats without opposition.
Carr, now 62 and gray, was elected governor in 1938 when the Democrats controlled virtually all state offices. He was re-elected in 1940, carrying the G. O. P. ticket with him.
Senator Eugene D. Mullikin was renominated for the Senate by Republicans without a contest and Rep. John A. Carroll, Denver Fair Deal Congressman, won the Democratic nomination for Senator without opposition.
Three of the state's four Congressmen were renominated without opposition.

Kelly in Michigan
Detroit, Sept. 13 (AP)—Former Gov. Harry F. Kelly was nominated today over four other candidates to carry the Republican ticket in the Michigan gubernatorial race in November.
He will oppose Democratic Governor G. Mennen Williams, unopposed in yesterday's primary.
Smith Is Chosen
Jackson, Miss., Sept. 13 (AP)—Pink-cheeked, chubby 32-year-old Frank Smith, state senator and former newspaperman, is the choice of Delta Democrats to succeed veteran Will M. Whittington as congressman from Mississippi's third district.
Unofficial returns from all except six of the district's 138 precincts show Smith received 11,260 votes to 9,572 for State Sen. Oscar Wolfe in yesterday's runoff primary election.
Whittington is retiring after 26 years in Congress. He did not seek the nomination, which means election in Democratic Mississippi.

Youngdahl Gets Vote
Minneapolis, Sept. 13 (AP)—Minnesota Republicans gave Republican Governor Luther W. Youngdahl a strong vote in Tuesday's primary election although he had no serious opposition.
Returns from 757 of the state's 3,759 precincts gave Youngdahl 160,576. The most any of his four little known opponents got in the same precincts was 2,225 votes collected by Walter Olson.
Harry H. Peterson, former state supreme court justice, was leading a six-man field for the Democratic-Farmer-Labor nomination for governor.

Woman in Arizona
Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 13 (AP)—Arizona Democrats appeared today to have nominated a woman for governor.
Ana Frohmiller, who in 24 years as state auditor gained the nickname of "Watchdog of the Treasury," led Gov. Dan E. Garvey on incomplete returns.
If nominated and elected, Mrs. Frohmiller, 59, would be the third woman governor in the nation's history.
Returns from 332 of the state's 481 precincts gave Mrs. Frohmiller 14,350 votes; Garvey 11,194 and Richard F. Harless, former congressman, 10,581.
The Democratic congressional delegation, Sen. Carl Hayden and Reps. John R. Murdock and Harold A. Patten, won re-nominations.
Republican candidates for nomination for U. S. senator, representatives and governor were unopposed.

Prout Is Chosen
Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 13 (AP)—Winston L. Prout, a 44-year-old lumber dealer is the choice of Vermont Republicans to be their lone representative in Congress.
Victor over Governor Harold I. Arthur in yesterday's primary, Prout is virtually assured of succeeding the veteran Charles A. Plumley (R.) who retires at the end of his current term.
Vermonters have not elected a Democrat to Congress in modern times.
Lee Emerson, 51, won the G.O.P. nomination for governor over J. Harold Stacey.
There were no contests in the Democratic ticket, and U. S. Senator George D. Aiken (R.) had no opposition in gaining re-nomination for another term.

Kingston Chamber

said that the renewal of membership subscriptions by all active members during 1949-1950 would balance the budget. Additional memberships could be used to carry on an expanded program. In the discussion it was pointed out that membership signs should not be displayed by anyone except active paid-up members.
President Teetsel also pointed out that several special and standing committees of the Chamber will report at the October meeting of the directors on projects to work on. If the projects are approved they will become part of the Chamber program. The opinion was expressed that emphasis should be placed on a few important projects each year.
Due to conflicting dates, the public meeting sponsored by the Traffic and Transportation Committee of the Chamber, has been changed to Wednesday evening, September 27. On that date Philip Lee of the New York State Thruway Authority will speak at the Governor Clinton Hotel and answer questions. All those interested are invited to attend. Further details will be worked out at a committee meeting Monday night, Sept. 18.
Howard C. St. John, local attorney, has been appointed chairman of the 1951 annual banquet committee. The names of his committee members will be announced in the near future Teetsel said. The banquet will be held in late January or early February.

Red Cross Camouflaged
Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—A Red Cross worker said today that crosses on American military ambulances in Korea are being covered with mud to camouflage them from enemy gunners trying to kill medical personnel. Ralph R. Montague, Jr., of Birmingham, Ala., who said he was the first Red Cross representative to reach Korea after the shooting started, also told a reporter that medical officers informed him North Korean fliers, foot soldiers and artillerymen had been "picking off" the ambulances in an attempt to knock off medical.

QUESTION: If I drive a borrowed car, am I covered by the public liability and property damage insurance I carry on my own car? One of those complicated transportation problems involving getting four men to the golf course but leaving enough cars on their wheels could be the shopping came up the other day and some one mentioned the insurance angle.

ANSWER: So long as the borrowed car is a private passenger vehicle which you do not regularly drive, you are fully covered by your own insurance policy. It should be mentioned, however, that the policy does not extend to cars which you actually own besides the one insured. You must arrange for separate insurance on each such car.

If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there'll be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

C. M. Pathe Hangs Self in Hotel Room

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 13 (AP)—Charles M. Pathe, 27, a civil engineer of New York city, was found hanged today in his hotel room.
Coroner Chauncey Wood, ordering an inquest, said it appeared to be a suicide case.
Wood said he was told Pathe was a grandson of the founder of Pathe News Movies and an assistant to the vice president of the Import-Export Industries, Inc., 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York city.
Pathe was accompanied to Peoria by Pierre Triou, a vice president of the firm. They checked in last night at the Pere Marquette Hotel and were to leave today for Kansas City.
Triou could not be reached by newsmen.
Pathe was a native of France and is survived by his widow, in New York city, the coroner said.

Six Planes Are Hit
Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Six shiny new Russian-made Yak fighter planes were hit on the ground in North Korea today, bringing to 10 the number destroyed or damaged in two days. It was the biggest bag of Korean Red fighters since early in the war. Three were destroyed today, three yesterday. AP Correspondent William Jordan said one returning pilot reported the Yaks looked as if they had "just come out of the factory they were so shiny." They were on the Pyongyang airfield, near the Red capital. U. S. Fifth Air Force fighters reported they also destroyed four Korean Red tanks, damaged 10 and possibly hit four others.

Tapping Probe Stilled

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—A Senate investigation of wiretapping in the nation's capital was put in moth balls today with little prospect of a resumption until after the November election. Senator Healy (D-W. Va.), acting chairman of the District of Columbia subcommittee making the inquiry, ordered a recess when enough senators to make a quorum failed to show up.

Coroner Chauncey Wood, ordering an inquest, said it appeared to be a suicide case.

Wood said he was told Pathe was a grandson of the founder of Pathe News Movies and an assistant to the vice president of the Import-Export Industries, Inc., 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York city.
